Programme Highlight:

Hong Kong Science Park is one of the leading and iconic site in Hong Kong. Innovation and technology development has been their vision since their inception in 2002. Throughout the years, they have cultivated a fertile ground for their innovation and technology ecosystem to thrive. HKSTP channel supportive initiatives and resources to five major technologies clusters – Biomedical Technology, Electronics, Green Technology, Information and Communications Technology and Material and Precision Engineering. The technology clusters contribute to devising innovative solutions for three platforms in focus – Smart City, Healthy Ageing and Robotics.

Before the site tour, visitors will be briefed on the facility operation in a holistic view. After the briefing, visitors will be guided to visit a variety of facilities in the HKSTP and understand how the dedicated facility management team can effectively operate the HKSTP.

Speaker

Dr. Clement WONG is the Head of Facility Management in Hong Kong Science & Technology Parks Corporation. He is responsible for facility management, utilization and energy management.
